

R. Srinivasulu, Research Associate, Modelling and Economic Analysis Group, TERI

R. Srinivasulu is B.A Economics (Honors) (Guru Nanak College, Madras University); M.Sc in Economics from Madras School of Economics in the year 2004. He has previously worked as a Research Assistant with the Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relation (ICRIER) as well as an Economist with Japan Bank for International Co-Operation, besides his current assignment in the Modelling and Economic Analysis area of The Energy and Resources Institute. His specialization areas are Applied Econometrics and International Trade. He has presented & published papers in these areas in both national & international seminars. Some of the econometric & software applications, in which he is skilled, are:

- GTAP
- GAMS
- STATA

Mr. Srinivasulu's main areas of research interests are:

- Econometric Modelling,
- International Trade and Environment

During the project, he will be involved with one more project.